No need to say,
"I wish I dared"

How often have you heard the expression, "I can't drink coffee; it doesn't agree with me!" Yet there is an undeniable satisfaction in having a hot drink with meals.

Postum supplies satisfaction and safety, both. No need to deny yourself the pleasure of this fragrant, invigorating cup through fear of nervous disturbance afterward. Postum is rich and comforting, and there's nothing in it that can harm anybody.

Why not follow the example of the thousands who have left off the risks of coffee, for the assured satisfaction and safety of Postum?

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tin) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling only 20 minutes.

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT STAND

Says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her Well and Strong

Glen Falls, N. Y.—"For over two months I was so sick I was not able to stand on my feet, and my husband did my housework. The doctor said an operation might be necessary. I read testimonials about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and began to take it. Before I had finished taking the first bottle I saw what good it was doing me. I am now well and strong, doing all my work for a family of four, all my washing and my sewing, which I think is remarkable, as I had not dared to run my sewing machine, but had done all my sewing by hand. I truly feel that were it not for your medicine I would not be here today as my case seemed very serious."—Mrs. GEORGE W. BURDELL, Glen Falls, N. Y.

 Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent you free, upon request. Write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information that every woman should have.

CURRENT COMMENT

In completing his job as fuel administrator General Goethals paid a high compliment to retail coal dealers throughout the state who he says were fair in the emergency of fuel shortage, cooperating in the effort to keep up the fuel supply and prevent shortages. The above statement is one with which the public generally and certainly in Oneonta, will agree. The fuel supply through the season of shortage was judiciously conserved and given out in such fashion that, despite uneasiness, there was no real suffering; while also their efforts to keep coal coming were indefatigable.

Delaware county in Pennsylvania is attracting general attention through its determination to erect a memorial which to beauty will add the feature of genuine utility. It will be a bridge which will cost the county about $187,470 to build, and the state will expend nearly as much more to construct the approaches. It will have a roadway 35 feet wide with two five-foot walks and will be 350 feet long. Seventy feet above the floor of the bridge will tower a memorial arch, which seventy feet aloft will bear two bronze tablets on which will be inscribed the names of all the soldiers of the county who died in World War service. It will be a wonderful memorial which will long keep alive the spirit of Americanism in the southeastern corner of Pennsylvania.

The postoffice department is said to be working on a plan for group mail boxes to be used at highway intersections where there are often from three or four to a dozen boxes grouped, each box being separate. It is stated that these boxes, which will be in the general delivery form of the mail receptacles now used in city apartment houses, will cost much less than the present separate ones, and that along with this will go the fact that the work of the rural carriers will be easier and can be done more quickly.

Wherever there is a fisherman, which is doubtless in every place where a town has at least one resident, there will be satisfaction over the fact that the bill to impose a joint license on each sportsman has been drafted in the senate. There was a great many people in the state who could only go once in a year, and any measure which would make it difficult and expensive for them to fish at all would not be received with favor. Moreover, it is a law which could not be enforced, and no specific good could be accomplished by it.

Between January 1 and April 1 of the present year there were 25,866 new freight cars put in service on the railways of the United States and orders still standing call for 102,912 more. During the same period there were 589 new locomotives placed on the rails and 1,945 more have been ordered. The above figures indicate that transportation facilities are to be greatly increased but that many more workmen are to be employed and all the shops kept busy.

Wouldn't it jar you! the fact that there were no less than 84 separate earthquakes recorded in the United States last year! Numerous as they were, however, they were mostly confined to the western coast, coming in broad waves of shock from undersea points under the Pacific ocean. Only one was appreciably felt in New York state, that being on December 1.

It is the testimony of a New York mail carrier about to retire after a service of 35 years that the love letter is becoming pretty much a thing of the past. Not that such letters are not to some extent written, but in the old days he recalls the minutes in the same handwriting and addressed to the same person appeared in his bag pretty much every day. Now there is no such epistolary extravagance, but he does not "tribute it to the falling of the sentiment by which they were inspired. Doubtless the telephone has had a great deal to do with it, for why should Corydon and Phyllis, or their city counterparts, spend time writing when a call to "Central" will bring to ear the loved one's voice? Another reason may be the substitution of the typewriter for the pen. It is, of course, not at all fat to type the loving word, but there are many in this age of machinery who exceedingly dislike what is become known as "long" in contradiction from shorthand. And then there is the awkward which annihilates distance between the lover and his heart's desire. Altogether, there are many reasons behind the decay of affection which help to account for the disappearance of the love letter.

A Memorial Ancestry.
The Council of Athletics of the University of Pennsylvania has established a trust fund in memory of Andrew Lang, son of Henry Lang of Margareville, Andrew Lang was a member of the university football team and died last November from injuries received in a game. From the trust fund an annuity for life will be paid to the young man's mother and sister, after which the Andrew Lang Memorial Scholarship will be established.

Shops for Spring Fashions.
August 10 has already been selected as the time and the Oneonta fair grounds on the site for the annual picnic of the Otsego county Fair Association. At this picnic two years ago the crowd was estimated to be over 4,000 people.

WHAT THE PAPERS SAY

Bugs.
The Blue system of legislative control which thwarts the will of majorities in congress and many of the state legislatures is certain to lead to the wrecking of policies and principles which are in public interest. If the system is allowed to operate unrestrained, the blue system does not recognize the public interest where that interest conflicts with the program of the blue.—(Mining Congress Journal.)

Pink Boll Worm Threat.
American has the boll weevil which has destroyed in a season as much cotton as was harvested. In Egypt it is the pink boll worm that wreaks havoc in the cotton fields of the Nile valley. What might happen if both these insect pests worked in the same areas may be imagined. It is a matter of serious concern to the Agricultural and treasury departments at Washington just now for, by a peculiar marine accident a few weeks ago, there is a threat of introducing the pink boll worm into our cotton states.—(Pittsburgh-Gazette Times)

The Path to Good Government.
There is but one way to get good government and that way is to select the right kind of men to carry on the public business. A good scheme of government is helpful, but the most perfect piece of government machinery will function poorly unless its operation is in the hands of the right sort of men. That is a truism.—(Baltimore American.)

Should Be Stopped.
No useful purpose is served by such foolhardy stunts as that in which Harry F. Young, the "human spider," recently lost his life while climbing the walls of a local hotel.

The imperil life needlessly and trade on a curious trait in human nature which were better not cultivated. In addition to the danger incurred by those who perform these recklessly sensational feats and often by the spectators, there is also the infection spread in the minds of children and grown-ups of childish mentality, who try to imitate without skill and are almost certain to be injured.

The ordinance introduced at the request of this newspaper by Alderman Collins forbidding such exhibitions hereafter in New York city is in the public interest and should pass.—(New York American.)

Antisocialist in Wall Street.
When William H. Mallock visited New York in 1927 he made a friendly call on the editor of the Wall Street Journal. His breezy contempt for Socialism, and his profound knowledge of its inherent absurdity, was expressed in his easy and unaffected way. There have been no men of his time more cultured and more human. He might be called the most social of antisocialists. He was good naturedly asked if he conceded the post-office as a socialist institution. "No," he replied, "not at all; under Socialism the government would write the letters."—(Wall Street Journal.)

REV. U. S. MILBURN RESIGNS

Former Pastor Chapin Church Leaves

Many friends of Rev. U. S. Milburn, former pastor of the Chapin Memorial church of this city, will be interested in the announcement that on Sunday last he read to his congregation his formal resignation as pastor of the First Universalist church of Salem, Mass. The announcement, the Salem Evening News says, "will be received with universal regret, not only by the members of the society but Salemites generally, for during his pastorate here Mr. Milburn has won the L. S. esteem of the people, far beyond the confines of his parish and the city."

Mr. Milburn goes from Salem to Everett, a prosperous Massachusetts city of over 40,000 population, where broad opportunities for usefulness are open to him. He has been pastor of the Salem church since November 1, 1931, where his activities during the period of the great Salem fire in 1914, and the World War are gratefully remembered. Some four years ago Mr. Milburn declined a call to a prominent church in Pennsylvania. He will assume his new pastorate on May 1. Mr. Milburn's wife will be remembered as Miss Alice Dinmore, a sister of the Misses Bertha and Clara Dinmore of this city.

BROTHER OF GEO. COLE DEAD

Roland D. Cole, O. & W. Breakman of Norwich, Victim of Fatal Accident.

Norwich, April 9.—The funeral of Roland D. Cole, the Ontario & Western brakeman, whose life was crushed out between two cars Saturday morning, when a long train of loaded coal cars buckled on the steep grade this side of the Oxford station, will be held from his late home at 22 Gold street, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The Rev. Frank W. Young will officiate and burial will be in Mount Hope cemetery.

Mr. Cole was born June 26, 1899, and had been employed as trainman since July, 1929. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Daisy Green of this city; a daughter, Birdella, aged six, and a son, Harold, aged three. He also leaves his father, Jesse Cole of Norwich; three brothers, George Cole of Otsego; William of Walton, and Duane of this city, and three sisters, Mrs. Frank Johnson, and Misses Carrie and Nellie Cole of this city.

OLSON VERDICT STANDS

Justice George McCann has denied the motion for a new trial in the case of Kathryn Robinson against the executor of the estate of Daniel Mann of Walton. Miss Robinson was a nursery professional and at the request of Mann gave up her regular work to care for him, on assurance. It is claimed that he would make the matter right. Mann lived six years and died, and at his death it was found that he had left her nothing. Action was brought and verdict for $2,250 rendered by a jury, from which the executor appealed. Justice McCann holds that the sum was not excessive, and that there was sufficient corroborative evidence as to the agreement to establish a valid claim.

Normal Boarding and Rooming Ltd.

All residents desiring to have their names appear on the new list of rooming and boarding places for Normal students in either summer or regular session, should send the necessary information to A. M. Curran, 24 Maple street, not later than April 12. Please send.

THE KILL JOY

CHARGED WITH VILE CRIME

James DeForest Arrested at Hartwick Charged With Rape of 12 Year Old Girl—Held Without Bail for Grand Jury.

The offender in one of the most despicable crimes ever committed in Otsego county was apprehended on Saturday when James DeForest was taken into custody charged with the rape of a 12 year old girl at Hartwick. DeForest was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Frank Herby, who held him without bail for the grand jury on the charge of first degree rape. He is now in the county jail at Cooperstown.

DeForest, an irresponsible youth, enticed the girl to his home on Friday on the pretext that his mother wanted to see her. The mother was away at the time. The man took the girl into the dwelling and there is said to have forcibly assaulted her in the presence of a nine year old girl who had accompanied them to the house.

When the girl reached home she episode and he notified District Attorney Adrian A. Pierson, who, in company with Under-Sheriff Robert Converse, went to Hartwick Saturday, located DeForest and placed him under arrest. The crime, one of the most dastardly which can be committed, has aroused considerable feeling in Hartwick. District Attorney Pierson believes that there is sufficient evidence to warrant an indictment for first degree rape and feels confident that he can secure an indictment and a subsequent conviction. The maximum penalty for first degree rape is a 20 year prison sentence. On account of DeForest's youth, he is but 20 years old, it is possible that he might be committed to the Elmira reformatory in case of conviction. DeForest has been employed as a farm hand and is described as being a ne'er-do-well.

FIFTY YEARS MARRIED.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Perkins celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home on the state road near Emmons last evening by a party attended by some thirty of their friends. Cards and games of various sorts were played and a delicious wedding feast was served, which included a wedding cake made by Mrs. Lottie Tiddle and bearing on its white frosted top the numerals "1872-1922" in yellow icing. Seated at the table with Mr. and Mrs. Perkins were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ward, bride and groom of 58 years standing. Before the guests departed F. A. Murdock, on behalf of the gathering, presented Mr. and Mrs. Perkins with a substantial sum of gold. Mr. Perkins and Mrs. Perkins, whose maiden name was Hannah Milburn, were married on April 2, 1872, at Northfield, Delaware county. They moved to their present home four years ago from Christian hill, near Hartwick. April 10, 1903.

During the first week of April, which was the opening week of the federal court in Syracuse, the sum of $56,000 in fines was imposed by Judge Cooper and paid practically all by sum-runners and bootleggers. Judge Cooper is imposing extra heavy fines in an attempt to clean out violators of the Volstead act. It is expected that many more offenders will be arraigned this week.

How To Forget TROUBLES

TROUBLES knock up your eyes like Jack Dempsey knock down his opponent.

Troubles deal blows both in the head and stomach—and they hurt the stomach more than they do the head!

Troubles give the stomach bad digestion, cause the liver and bowels and turn up the entire system. The best way to do this—has been for the past 25 years—is to take Hostetter's Pills.

Then you will feel so good that "troubles" become merely problems, to be solved easily by the strict, sane laws of health.

SPORT SUITS ALWAYS GOOD FORM

Country club life has become an important part of the American social system. Universal use of the automobile makes it possible for almost every man to play golf, get out to his club frequently or at least take part in more democratic outings which are open to everyone.

All this has resulted in the development of appropriate clothes in America, just as in England where certain elements of the population have long enjoyed leisure to play.

The American man, however, has adapted the sport suit to business life. He sees the sport suit in office, at the club, and at the country club.

Below, at the left, is shown a typical young man's sport suit for the spring and summer season. They make up particularly well in the lively light patterns in checks and plaids and all the shades of gray and brown.

At the right is shown a young man's 3-piece suit, conservative in design. You'll note the wide straight trousers which exemplify the 1933 style tendency.

INDEX ENDLESS WAR ON RATS

Modern Rat Piper Had the Country of 10,000,000 Rats Last Year, by Government Count.

SAVY FEELS ARE ON INCREASE

Theoretically, if Rat Population increases in Next 100 Years as it Has in Last 100 the Rat Will Destroy Human Race.

Washington.—The modern Rat Piper, J. L. Nicholas, was in town the other day, and he brought the sad news that rats are on the increase. Even with all the rat-killing campaigns, and with the interest of the public, these pests are flourishing. Rats are being killed by the millions, but the surviving mothers, sisters and cousins are more energetically offset the tribal losses by building up new and widening family circles.

Mr. Nicholas is not a gloom dispenser. For seven years he has conducted rat-killing campaigns. He has evicted the rat cheerfully and with telling effect. He says that last year he rid the country of 10,000,000 rats, by government count. But the outlook is that, theoretically, if the rat population increases for the next 100 years as it has in the last 100 years, the rat will destroy the human race.

They Are Costly Pests.
Mr. Nicholas says that in 1910 rats in the United States destroyed $20,000,000 worth of food and other property. In 1916 the amount was $150,000,000; in 1918, $300,000,000, and this year rats are expected to do $1,000,000,000 worth of damage.

And that is not the worst of rats as pests. They are among the most efficient disease carriers that we have. They have taken the bubonic plague all over the world. Their connection with typhoid, scarlet fever, diphtheria, meningitis and tuberculosis is also being investigated. Rats are flea-infested creatures, and that alone makes them both dirty and dangerous. They are pests to be attacked relentlessly.

This modern Rat Piper has no pips, and he has never tried charming rats with music. But he has studied rat character and intelligence, and he applies his knowledge to bring about the rat's downfall. After hearing Mr. Nicholas talk about their cleverness, it seems likely that rats have changed since the Hamelin town Rat Piper story. The rats of 1281 never hesitated in following magic tune, we are told. But you cannot help fancying that the 1923 rat would merely have smiled impudently at the piper and have wrapped his tail securely about his ears to shut out the dangerous notes.

Mr. Nicholas says that rats distinguish between colors. They are put on a number of papers, some red, some white, and some blue, the rats will eat the food on one kind of paper and will avoid the other colors. Presumably they try one type of food, and if that seems satisfactory they continue to eat as long as it lasts. If they try the bait on blue paper and like that they will ignore the red and white paper and eat only the blue.

Most Cunning of Animals.
Rats are the most cunning of animals, Mr. Nicholas says. He tells of a case in which a basement was overrun with rats which were almost tame. One day a trap was set in the basement. A rat ran along the floor directly toward the trap. Suddenly he saw the danger and tried to stop so quickly that he slid on his haunches and caught himself only a few inches from the trap door. He scampered away hastily, and evidently spread the exciting news of the trap, for no more rats came out all afternoon.

That rodents warn one another of danger is further shown by Mr. Nicholas in a story of Lexington market. Several years ago Mr. Nicholas conducted a rat-killing campaign in Baltimore, and cleared this market of 1,500 rats. For a year, which is about six rat generations, there were no more rats in the market. It may be that the survivors told all of their friends about the terrible massacre of the market place. After that the fear wore off, or else the tradition became lost, for the market had to be cleaned out again not long ago.

However the news of danger is spread, it is evident that rats do possess a degree of intelligence which helps them to avoid danger. They are anything but gullible, and this makes the problem of destroying them the more troublesome. They quite often avoid traps. Predatory animals, such as cats and ferrets, cannot as a rule be used to kill them off in large numbers. Poison, carefully and properly used, is the most effective means of disposing of them on a wholesale scale.

Mr. Nicholas uses barium carbonate, which is tasteless and odorless. Its action upon rats is slow, so that poisoned animals generally leave a home or barn in search of water, and the small quantities used to bait food for rats are not often sufficient to kill other creatures.

Three Kinds of Rat Used.
The American Rat Piper carries his reasoning about rat intelligence over into his work of poisoning the pests. He knows that rats are suspicious, and so he uses three kinds of bait, perhaps cheese, apples and ham-burger steak. The rodents do not seem to be able to suspect danger in so many as three kinds of food at one time.

Food is placed not less than five feet from the bait. Rat piper has to be careful not to get too close to the bait. A wild rat might be scared by the suggestion of a human being with the food, but a rat is domesticated. The food of rats is affected to such of the food it eats regularly.

The rat brain seems to work much like the human brain. The rat brain seems to work much like the human brain. The rat brain seems to work much like the human brain.

FLYING OVER CHANNEL SAFE

Passenger Steamers London and Paris Almost Sunked Third of Talking a Channel.

London.—Air trips between London and Paris are being made only all the time, and before long passenger will almost be denied the thrill of taking a channel. Even if the airplane is forced down upon the waters of the channel, the passengers may be rescued as quickly that they will have to see their friends in order to interest their friends with an account of the experience when they get back home. The air ministry is working to this.

Arrangements for hovering channel craft to the aid of a plane that falls in the water have just been completed and successfully tested. As all the trans-channel flyers are equipped with wireless telephones, the authorities have adopted a new international distress word for aircraft. It is "May day," the phonetic equivalent of "Maiden," the French for "Help me."

The new protective arrangements will be in effect night and day, as regular night air service to Paris and back soon is to be established.

This sensational plan takes the guess out of maintenance costs

We will keep any new Overland car bought from us during February and March in proper running condition including labor and parts—excepting only tires and batteries and electrical equipment which are guaranteed by their manufacturers and damages from wrecks or collisions—for an entire year at a cost of only

10 Cents a Day

Never before has the public had an opportunity to avail themselves of such an iron-clad service policy at any price.

Think of the many repair bills you have received for cleaning carbon, grinding valves, adjusting bearings, oiling the entire car, scored cylinders, leaky piston rings and many other adjustments found necessary on any motor car regardless of cost.

The Overland plan of 10 cents per day (guaranteed) for upkeep takes the guess out of your purchase. You can now buy an Overland, knowing in advance exactly what it will cost you for maintenance.

However, this plan is optional. Many of our owners report that the upkeep on their Overland cars is actually less than 10 cents a day.

GRANT SECURES JUDGMENT

Awarded $1.00 to Action Against Stamford Water Company.

Stamford, April 9.—At 9:15 this evening the jury in the action of J. K. Grant against the Stamford Water company brought in a verdict of $1.00 for the plaintiff. The chief point of contention seemed to be whether the Water company showed favoritism in its charge of fifty cents for each room.

or, or person in excess of five, being a house.

The hearing before a jury with Justice H. C. Cook presiding, was resumed this morning. The plaintiff opened by offering evidence that he had deposited $16.50 with the Stamford bank to pay his water rent but that the money was refused by the company. He also showed the value of water service to his property, and presented testimony to the effect that the water was not clear and had an ill taste.

Attorney for the defendant moved to dismiss the action on the grounds that there was no cause for action, that rates were not unreasonable, and that the action exceeded the jurisdiction of a justice's court, $200. The objections were overruled.

H. H. Barner, secretary of the company since 1902 was called and testified, as did William Plattner, treasurer of the company. On testimony of the latter there was much discussion as to his wages as an officer of the company and as to the amount paid by him in water rental. Summing up commenced about four o'clock and the case was presented to the jury with the result given above.
